

Press Release: I.P.F. LAUNCHES A NEW MULTILINGUAL WEBSITE

IPF is pleased to announce the launch of its new and improved multilingual site www.ipf-fip.org where media professionals can easily register and gain their International Press Card.

The International Press Federation (I.P.F.)'s new website is a one-stop-shop for all media professional from all around the globe. The new website, which offers quick and easy access to essential information on I.P.F. and the international media community, is part of the organization's ongoing efforts to enhance the quality and availability of information to members and news professionals worldwide.

According to James P. Steadland, president of I.P.F. the aim is "to live up to the expectations of the growing number of our members and other freelance journalists spread around the world, who are using press pass". The website boasts a modern, colorful design with the following main features:

- general information about press card subject
- background information about international press federation
- code of ethics for members
- detailed information in English, French and Spanish
- detailed explanation on how to register
- live chat support

We invite you to visit www.ipf-fip.org today!

About the International Press Federation I.P.F

IPF, the International Press Federation is an independent and non-partisan media association with its registered office in New York, USA. It promotes and encourages high standard among media professionals through professional development, networking among wide and varied range of journalists, including but not limited to editors, press photographers, print journalists, press spokespeople, cameramen/women, directors, authors, publishers, bloggers, arts critics, anchormen, from print, TV, radio and web media, either full- time, part-time or freelancers thus covering and representing all the interests of media without exclusion.

###

Unique global press organization now offering a comprehensive, multilingual and easy-to-use website.

Media Contact:

Hannah McPherson

Tel: + 1 (845) 570 42 65

Email: contact@ipf-fip.org